Chinese Student Found In Church

Youth Hid After Failing His Studies

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—“It was like death. I talked to myself more and more,” Cheng Guan Lin said today describing his four-year voluntary imprisonment in the eaves of the First Methodist Church here.

Cheng, flushed out of his hiding place Sunday by police, told incredulous authorities and University of Michigan officials he went into hiding after the Michigan-Navy football game in 1955 to save face after failing in his studies in the university's engineering college.

The 20-year-old Chinese student said he hadn't spoken to anyone during the four years. He said he subsisted on scraps of food picked up from the church kitchen following social activities.

Cheng, son of a Singapore school teacher, said he brushed his teeth with burnt match sticks, cut his hair with a pair of shears and trimmed his beard with a set of tweezers.

His strange existence was discovered after private police were hired to check the church building after complaints of prowlers.

Officers entered the building after a couple living in the basement heard noises. They heard a door slam and went to the eaves where Cheng was found.

The student was found doubled up under a catwalk. He was wearing a pair of shorts. Beneath a paper tent were his blankets, an earphone radio and a jar of instant coffee.

Cheng said he decided on the hiding place after the football game and entered it to stay after throwing his clothes and identifying papers.

Resurfacing Project To Be Started Here

Parking will be banned on Lincoln and Ellsworth Aves. tomorrow as the city prepares for a $93,000 resurfacing program, Mayor Harold Smith announced today.

The “no parking” signs will be posted today. The action is taken so the city can sweep the streets before the City Asphalt and Paving Co. of Youngstown, which was awarded the improvement contract, moves into town. The firm's workers are expected here tomorrow, the mayor said.

He explained the action will prevent car owners from getting the sticky tar on their autos when the firm lays the tacking coat tomorrow. Council is expected to pass an ordinance prohibiting parking on Ellsworth and Lincoln Aves. and a portion of Mill St. after the project is completed sometime near the end of September.

Western Statesmen Will Report On TV Tonight

LONDON (AP)—Cheered by thousands, President Eisenhower returned to London today from weekend talks with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan that brought broad agreement on the strategy of future cold war negotiations.

Qualified informants outlined results of the conference of the two leaders at Chequers, the Prime Minister's country estate.

They said Eisenhower and Macmillan displayed a resolve to do all they can to bring French President Charles de Gaulle back into full cooperation in the North Atlantic Alliance.

Eisenhower's coming exchange of visits with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was said to have been the most important single topic covered in the American-British exchanges.

Other subjects covered by the two men—sometimes with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd sitting in—included:

1. Plans for a new Western approach toward an East-West disarmament program. This approach was said to take into account an American idea that would make a cutoff of nuclear weapon production under tight controls a starting point of the program.

2. A possible compromise formula on key issues holding up an

USW, Kitchens Okay Extension Of Contract

Management of the Salem plant of Youngstown Kitchens division of American - Standard Corp., and officials of Local 1538, United Steelworkers of America, Sunday agreed to extend contract negotiations 60 days beyond the basic steel settlement.

The extension agreement provides that any wage increases or fringe benefit improvements obtained in the new contract will be retroactive to Sept. 1. Benefits obtained in a basic steel settlement also would apply to Youngstown Kitchens workers, a union spokesman said.

Meanwhile, bargaining on a similar contract extension is continuing between the E. W. Bliss Co. plant here and USW. The present three-year pact ends at midnight. The company proposed extension contains the same provisions the union has agreed upon in bargaining with other Ohio firms, the company said.

Any wage increase granted during the 60-day extension would be retroactive to Sept. 1, the firm's spokesman said.

The negotiations cover 350 production and maintenance workers.

2 Teen-Agers Die In Violence

New York Police Seeking Suspects

NEW YORK (AP)—Police said today that at least a dozen suspects would soon be arrested in connection with the latest outburst of murderous teen-age violence on New York City streets.

Chief of Detectives James B. Leggett said that two would be charged with homicide, and the rest with unlawful assembly or held as material witnesses.

Leggett said the fatal stabbings apparently did not represent organized gang action.

Two boys were stabbed to death early Sunday when a gang of boys armed with knives attacked a group of youngsters in a West Side playground.

The leader of the attacking group, police were told, wore a black cape and carried a cane. The deaths brought to four the number of young people killed in teen-age violence in a week. The city's toll so far this year is eight dead.

A third boy was stabbed in the stomach in Sunday's violence, a bottle was broken over another boy's head, and two other boys and a girl were roughed up.

Six boys and two girls were sitting in a darkened playground on Manhattan's West Side when they were set upon.

One of the boys who was roughed up, Jimmy Orphanos, 15, said the gang leader wore a black cape, “like the kind Dracula wears in the movies,” and carried a cane.

Orphanos said that the youth in the cloak told him just before the gang fled: “This will teach you to fool with the Young Lords.”

Police said the gang was Spanish-speaking. Officers questioned members of the Young Lords, a Puerto Rican street gang which

Kaiser Co. Employees' Vote Set Today

COLUMBIANA — A vote on the question of accepting a company offer of a day-to-day extension of their contract and a clause requiring 10-day notice by either side before breaking off negotiations will be taken today by members of the United Brick and Clay Workers Local 523 at Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. plant in Columbiana.

The union company contract expires at midnight tonight.

The vote will be taken at two meetings at 1:30 and 4:30 p.m. Local President H. Howard Stouffer, explained today. He said he thought the union would accept the day-to-day working plan. He explained this is the policy taken by other locals in the union this year.

D. C. Thompson, assistant to the Columbiana plant manager, said it was difficult to give an exact count of the number of employees involved because of lay-offs. “It is more than 100,” he said.

Eight In Family Injured In Crash Near Wellsville

Two Hospitalized; Four Drivers Cited By Highway Patrol

Eight members of one family and the driver who struck their auto were injured in a three-car collision on Rt. 7, just north of Wellsville, at 6:45 Sunday evening.

It was one of four accidents involving nine cars yesterday and early this morning, Lisbon post highway patrolmen said. Four drivers were cited.

Hospitalized with injuries received in the Wellsville area accident which occurred when a car driven by Charles Twyford, 24, of East Liverpool struck the rear of an auto operated by James Daniels, 30, of 312 2nd St., Wellsville, were two children of the latter driver:

Treva Daniels, 7, who is in fair condition at East Liverpool City Hospital with facial contusions, and Patricia Daniels, 6, in fair condition with a possible fractured skull and a torn ear drum.

Treated and released were James Daniels, abrasions and contusions of left shoulder and abdomen; his wife, Estella Daniels, 26, abrasions of the right leg; and three children, Mary, 10, contusions of right foot and shoulder; Kathy, 1 1/2, multiple contusions of body; James Jr., 5, bruised right side of neck and right arm; Jane, 3, contusions of head; and Charles Twyford, contusions of forehead.

After striking the rear of the Daniel's auto when it stopped, Twyford's car shot across the road and collided with a southbound vehicle driven by Lloyd Dittmer, 49, of Chester, W. Va. Twyford was arrested for excessive speed, patrolmen said.

Motorist Is Cited

In another three-car accident on Sunday, Basil Hurst, 20, of Hepzibah, W. Va., was arrested for failure to stop in the assured clear distance ahead after his auto struck the rear of a car driven by Wilbert Kemp, 18 of Bergetstown, Pa., knocking it into a car driven by Joseph E. Gedris, 18, of Aliquippa, Pa.

Patrolmen said the accident occurred on Rt. 45, about 2.5 miles south of Salem, at 4:20 p.m. as the two Pennsylvania drivers were stopped for a light.

In the other rear-end collision on

Fair Attracts 32,000 During Five-Day Stand

Aided by perfect weather and a record number of exhibitors, Columbiana County's 114th annual fair at Lisbon lived up to predictions of “bigger and better,” according to J. Richard Stamp of Salem, president of the fair board.

Attendance Saturday was estimated at nearly 6,000, bringing to over 32,000 the total for the five-day exposition. Attendance last year was approximately 31,000.

Secretary Clarence Crosser of Lisbon said paid admissions totaled 15,531. Children under 12, exhibitors, horsemen and concessionaires were admitted free.

Stamp and other members of the board said they were pleased with the response and grateful for the cooperation of exhibitors and

Fatality Occurs at Berlin Reservoir

Alliance Man, 36, Is Drowning Victim

ALLIANCE — George Wilford Jr., 36, of 623 E. High St., drowned Sunday afternoon in Berlin Reservoir when he and his stepsons went for a swim after the family had been fishing.

His older stepson, Danny Phillips, 12, told Portage County sheriff's deputies he grabbed for his father when he started to go under but couldn't hang on to him. The other stepson, James, is 8.

The victim's body was found in 20 feet of water about 5 p.m., two hours after he disappeared. It was located by Jacob Osdyke, a skindiver for the Ravenna Fire Department.

Wilford was pronounced dead at Alliance City Hospital at 5:45 p.m.

Wilford's wife, Mary, and daughter, Alice Mae, 6, were in their car waiting for the trio when the drowning occurred in an unguarded portion of the reservoir just west of Alternate Rt. 14.

Born in Racine, O., Dec. 28, 1923 he moved here from that town five years ago.

He was a member of the Methodist Church.

Besides his wife, daughter and stepsons, he leaves two brothers, Harold Wilford of Youngstown and Robert of Racine; three sisters, Helen Wilford of Beach Bottom, W. Va., Mrs. Robert Cogole of Fredricktown and Mrs. Benjamin Rutledge of Shelbyville, Tenn.

Calling hours will be held at the Walton Schrader Funeral Home from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday.

Graveside services will be held at Valley Knobs Cemetery near Racine Wednesday at 1:30 p.m.

Smathers noted Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev visit starts Sept. 15 and said “I think it would be the most suitable thing for all of us to be at home visiting with our constituents at that time.”

Johnson has said time and again that Congress should stay on the job until it passes major legislation including a controversial civil rights bill.

On this matter, Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) said Sunday he would like Khrushchev to witness “a good hot civil rights debate while he is here and ‘show him that we don't send our minorities to Siberia.’”

Prime Minister Sends Troops to Border Positions

Aid Is Promised To Protectorates Bhutan and Sikkim

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru today ruled out any immediate use of force against Chinese Communist troops his government charges have occupied Indian territory at two points on the Tibetan frontier.

Nehru rejected a suggestion in parliament that the Indian Air Force bomb a road the Chinese reportedly have built across uninhabited territory in the Ladakh sector of Kashmir State.

“Countries should not go to war without examining other ways to settle such matters,” Nehru told parliament in rejecting the bombing suggestion by members of the Praja Socialist Party.

The Chinese moved into the northern edge of Ladakh and built the road in 1957. Members angrily

Red China Admits Domestic Problems

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China today admitted Mao Tse-tung's domestic policies—including the peasant communes—have encountered violent and widespread opposition. There were indications the revolt against Mao was on the highest levels within the party.

The announcement said party workers were among the “rightist opportunists” who attacked Mao's 1959 line. However, it did not say whether any of his top-ranking associates were involved.

pointed out that Peiping had ignored India's complaints about their intrusion into Ladakh since last November. They asked what the government proposed to do.

“Send more reminders, Nehru replied, adding, ‘We hope this will be settled by discussions and conferences, and we do not propose to go to war.’”

As Nehru planned a series of talks with leaders of other states adjoining Chinese-occupied Tibet, Indian army troops were rushed to strengthen border guards on the northeast frontier, the other area threatened by the Chinese.

Nehru said the Chinese had produced old maps to back up their claims on the Ladakh territory. India disagreed with the claim, he continued, but this could be a matter for discussion.

But the Prime Minister termed the border crossings on the northeast frontier clear aggression. He

New Senior High Pupils to Report Tomorrow Morning

New students in Salem who expect to enter the sophomore, junior or senior classes at the Senior High School, and who have not yet turned in a list of the subjects they expect to take, should report to the principal's office for this purpose Tuesday morning, Beman G. Ludwig, principal, reports.

Much more time and attention can be given each individual tomorrow morning than during the first day of school when so many things are going on, he said. If students wait until the first day of school to register, schedules can not be made immediately and they will not be able to start their work on time.

If there are students who find they need changes in their schedules, they also are to report to the principal's office tomorrow, instead of coming in on the first day of school as has been done in the past, Ludwig said.

Inasmuch as there is to be no delay in getting started and lessons are to be assigned the first day, it is especially important that everyone start the very first day of the semester.

High School will begin promptly at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 9. Pupils may enter the building at

Friends End Yearly Meeting

Homeward Bound After 6-Day Session

By nightfall neighboring Damascus will be back to normal again after entertaining the 146th annual six-day session of Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends.

Representatives and delegates from Friends Churches in various points in Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Iowa, Virginia, Rhode Island, North Carolina, and Ontario, Canada, are homeward bound today. A few are remaining over for a visit with friends and relatives.

Sunday, always the big day of YM, attracted hundreds, including scores from this area to these services.

The annual missionary service at 2:30 p.m. was a highlight. The Rev. Howard W. Moore, who returned from Formosa a week ago, was the main speaker. He is on a year's furlough after spending a five-year term at this mission station.

The Rev. Chester Stanley of Damascus, missionary superintendent, presented the Rev. Moore whose theme was, “The Unfinished Task.” He based his sermon on John 12:21. “Sirs, We would see Jesus.” “Your job today is to help men see Christ,” the speaker declared.

He continued, “Our greatest call is the call to holiness. Men are waiting to see the Christ-like life lived out in the church. Jesus Christ has been lost in our equipment and our programs. Men want to see Jesus.”

The Rev. Charles Matti of Beloit, retired, who spent 32 years in mission work in China and on the island of Formosa, gave the devotions. The Rev. Earl Smith of Cleveland was song leader, and the Rev. Charles Robinson of Portsmouth, R.I., sang a solo.

The Rev. Robert Hess, on furlough from the American Friends Mission in Central India, was the HOUSE OF PLASTIC: This experimental three-bedroom ranch was built in South Bend, Ind., with radically new materials and methods. Backers hope it may eventually be mass produced.

New Methods And Materials Go Into Experimental House

SOUTH BEND, IND. (AP)—A radically different home, aimed at mass production for about $13,500, has been built here to test the ability of a wide variety of plastics to cut corners on costs.

If all the new ideas work out as expected, the $13,500 price tag would include built-in refrigerator, range, oven, dishwasher, laundry and air conditioning and allow $2,400 for a lot.

Central idea in the test house is its roof and wall panels—sandwich panels built around cores of foamed plastic—which eliminate the studs, posts, rafter and joists which form the standard skeleton of the conventional house.

"We threw the building code out the window," said Bruce Fast, assistant general manager of Place & Co., the builder. If some of the revolutionary new ideas work out, the builders hope to convince cities that their building code should be revised.

The plastic cores, faced with plywood or other materials, are made of material about the consistency of popcorn—light in weight, with insulating benefits and resilient enough to bounce off minor impacts.

Fast said it took only 8 hours 20 minutes for six men to put all exterior and interior walls and the roof in place, cutting construction time to 50 man-hours compared with the 250 man-hours for a conventional house. Panels were made to fit into a design using four-foot modules.

The house, part of which was reproduced for the National Assn. of Home Builders convention in Chicago in January, was designed by the NAHB research institute, Andrew Place, head of Place & Co. and an NAHB leader, built the pilot model.

The design was by Herman York, a Jamaica, N.Y., architect. Except for a carport looking like a giant pup tent, the basementless house, looks much like many contemporary ranch houses. It has three bedrooms, living room and family room. A thin mortar veneer was used to simulate brick on a wall in the family room.

Other cost-cutters include plastic kitchen cabinets, a simple plumbing core grouping bathroom and kitchen fixtures and electrical wiring tubes which appear to be part of the baseboard.

The aluminum-covered roof panels were built around cores of plastic four inches thick. The outside walls have a core three inches thick, the inside partitions two inches.

Spaces between panels were provided to leave room for windows of various sizes or the floor-to-ceiling doors, hinged in time-saving style to wall surfaces to avoid costly labor in door-hinging.

sure it is a strong one) between two ladders at a point where your head will be a few inches from the ceiling. This will help to reduce fatigue. Whether you use a brush or a roller, start in a corner and work across the narrow dimensions of the room, applying a strip two to three feet wide. This will enable you to lap the edge before it dries and to apply the next strip before the edge of the first has set. While many of the modern paints tend to reduce or eliminate overlapping marks, nevertheless it is a wise precaution to follow the "work across the narrow dimensions" advice.

QUESTION: We have a dining table near a wall in our kitchen, and the lighting fixture in the center of the ceiling does not cast enough light on the table. Is there any way we could move the fixture over the table without tearing up the ceiling to put in a new outlet?

ANSWER: Maybe you just don't have a bulb with high enough wattage. But if that is not the trouble, then your best bet would be to install a mobile track fixture, using your existing ceiling outlet. This fixture moves along a track attached to the ceiling and also can be raised or lowered. When you're eating, you can move the fixture over the table. At other times, you can keep the fixture high and in the center of the ceiling. If your local electrical contractor or store does not carry a fixture of this type, he can order it for you.

QUESTION: I expect to be making several birdhouses this spring. Can you tell me what kind of wood to use?

ANSWER: Almost any kind. You would be wise to drop in at your neighborhood lumberyard and see whether it has some scrap lumber or plywood for sale. These scraps make excellent material for birdhouses. The wood will stand up well if you give it a good protective coating of paint or spar varnish. Be especially careful to seal the edges of any pieces of plywood that may be among the scrap.

ANSWER: Almost any kind. You would be wise to drop in at your neighborhood lumberyard and see whether it has some scrap lumber or plywood for sale. These scraps make excellent material for birdhouses. The wood will stand up well if you give it a good protective coating of paint or spar varnish. Be especially careful to seal the edges of any pieces of plywood that may be among the scrap.

This And That Of Interest To Home Owners

A national test discloses that the average American home, if properly designed and insulated, can be heated and air conditioned for $8.44 per month in the South to $14.60 in the North. These figures are based on 1,200 square feet of living space. Sponsors of the test claim this means a savings of from 20 to 50 per cent in annual heating and cooling bills over houses conforming only to FHA minimum requirements.

The bronze industry is conducting an intensive campaign designed to show that the traditional qualities of cast bronze—resistance to corrosion and weathering, high durability and architectural beauty—can be utilized in hundreds of diverse products within the home. The Brass and Bronze Institute is sponsoring research on bronze at the Battelle Memorial Institute in Columbus, Ohio.

Thousands of students are earning money during the vacation period by renting power lawn mowers and then negotiating run-of-the-lawn summer contracts with home owners. Under such a contract, a youngster is paid a certain amount to maintain a lawn through the entire summer rather than a fixed fee per job.

New on the market is an automatic device that releases measured amounts of non-toxic insecticide spray into the air at regular 15-minute intervals. The dispenser is mounted on a wall and then plugged into an AC outlet.

Do-it-yourself ornamental aluminum aillings, columns and accessories are now available. They are designed to blend with any architectural home styling—rambling ranch, split-level, colonial or otherwise. The materials come in different lengths and widths and can be cut to size.

The world's largest manufacturer of floor maintenance machines has entered the portable electric tool field. The line is being introduced with five different kinds of drills, two circular saws, a saber saw, a dual action sander, a belt sander and an electric trimmer for hedges, shrubs and bushes.

Believe it or not, one home builder has put into effect what he calls "house aging." It consists of having a workman hit a top plate every four inches with a six-pound sledge after the ceiling joists are in place. This procedure is said to help settle the framing and prevent cracks in gypsum board walls later.

Now Is Time For Handy Man To Winterize the Windows

Some one of these weeks, when the grass has taken a dormant spell and weather is good and hot and dry, will be a good time to ready your windows against fall and winter.

Loose panes and weatherbeaten, dried, cracked and broken putty permit rain seepage. Too, rattling panes are annoying by day, unnerving at night.

First, repair loose panes: Start by removing all the putty that's loose and ready to crumble. If you remove any putty at all from an edge, be sure to remove all the remaining putty along that same edge. Use a putty knife for the job.

Next, check the glazier's points—triangular bits of metal that hold the pane in place. Replace those that are loose or missing. Drive one in about every four inches.

Treat exposed wood surfaces with linseed oil. Then reputty the window. Glazier's compound is a good substitute for putty. It's a little more expensive, but it lasts longer, since it doesn't dry out as does putty.

Apply it along the edge of the glass, then bevel it with a putty knife until the surface is smooth and even. Paint over the compound to match the frame.

While you're in the window department, take care of sticking windows: To loosen a stuck window, use a glazier's chisel. Such a chisel has a wide minimum of damage. Work the chisel between the sash and the stop. Get it in about a half-inch and work back and forth gently. Repeat wherever the window sticks.

If the window is paint-stuck on the outside, work the chisel under the sash. Work slowly. If you must pound, pound lightly with a mallet. Don't use a hammer.

If this method doesn't work, you'll have to pry off the molding. Remove it gently so that you don't crack or split it. Sand all surfaces that come in contact with the window.

Once the window is unstuck—no matter the method—lubricate surfaces with a grease stick. This with any windows that become balky.

Use the grease stick on painted or varnished surfaces, melted paraffin on unfinished wood. Try to get a little oil or powdered graphite on pulley bearings.

Even casement windows can get a little stiff. Apply a little light oil to the hinges. Remove the rotary opener and grease the gear. Wire-brush the inside of the frame for a tight fit. Brush the track at the base of the window in which the opener arm moves.

If the locking handle is loose, tighten the screws. If that's not enough, insert a cardboard shim to take up wear.

Quiet: Man Working For Peace

It is strange when you think about it that so many people who talk about peace are complaining because President Eisenhower is willing to work for it.

They almost seem to be afraid he might succeed.

If he did succeed, some of them would be deprived of their only visible excuse for being alive — their gnawing fear and hatred of everything they do not understand.

There are people who spend their lives mistrusting everything, being cynical about everybody's motives and preaching the Golden Rule: Do unto others what you're pretty darned sure the others are going to do unto you — but do it first.

Dwight Eisenhower isn't one of them. He never was, and as he has grown older, he has mellowed. Though a professional soldier, he is not ashamed to say he has dedicated his life to peace. Though a man of the world, he is not afraid to take a chance on working for peace, despite the unfavorable odds.

HE KNOWS how unfavorable the odds are. The late John Foster Dulles told him. Everybody he ever listened to has told him. History has told him.

Newspaper editorialists and electronic commentators are telling him.

An outfit signing itself "Committee Against Summit Entanglements" is telling him over the signatures of some of his hostile fellow Americans who would like to dice him up and eat him for breakfast.

His one-time commander-in-chief, Harry Truman, has been telling him, saying it will hurt the prestige of the presidency to exchange visits with the premier of Russia. This from a man who handled the presidency like a patronage dispensary was especially hard to take.

"I get a little weary about people who just say, 'Well, this would be a terrible blow to presidential prestige,' the President snapped at his press conference the day before flying to Europe to soothe some of the anxieties that have broken out abroad. "We are talking about the human race and what's going to happen to it."

We do not plan to demand the beginning of presidential impeachment if Dwight Eisenhower cannot charm Nikita Khrushchev into giving up his ambitions and his tactics. That is not the issue anyway.

No one is going to change Khrushchev's mind about anything. But until someone with enough wit to quit holding the man at arm's length tries to learn what is making him tick, there isn't even an outside chance of reaching the kind of an understanding that would come closer to peace than anything men have dreamed of for centuries.

IT WOULD BE an understanding that international competition and ideological competition which is just as real, would be confined in the future to nonmilitary activities for the reason that nuclear destruction has made militarism a barren instrument of policy.

The Soviet Union has been hinting broadly that it is interested in this possibility. The United States is interested. Its allies are interested, and Russia's allies are interested.

Competition is a fixed condition of existence on the earth — a natural law. In many fields of endeavor, competitors are able to agree on the terms of their competitive efforts. Perhaps the United States and Russia can agree to compete without recourse to war.

President Eisenhower is looking for a way to make such an agreement. If Premier Khrushchev is looking for the same thing, peace is possible. The game is worth the candle. The search is worth the possibility of failure.

Mr. K. May Have Noticed A Nudge

We do not buy the idea that the only hard-bitten diplomats in the world are in London, Paris and, lately, Moscow.

It has been our observation that our own foreign policy is spotted with instances of shrewd manipulation and playing both ends against the middle that would have done credit to Machiavelli. For instance, in the long view, the way Japan was fooled into attacking the United States first in World War II was as slick a piece of business as will be found in the 20th century — and it wasn't the diplomats' fault that the determined little empire builders caught the U.S. Army and Navy napping at Pearl Harbor. They might have been napping in the South China Sea where the war was supposed to have started.

Diplomacy comes now to a situation in Laos on the eve of a meeting between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev.

The Laotians are having trouble with Communists, homegrown and imported. The imported Communists are from North Vietnam, a Communist outpost controlled by Red China. By a twist of the diplomatic wrist, Premier Khrushchev is being held responsible for an outbreak by Communists in a part of the world where he has, in fact no authority.

Yet by being held responsible he is under pressure by governments that are supposed to cringe under the threat of Communists intervention to prove he can turn off what he claims he can turn on. If the idea of the Communist flareup in Laos was to embarrass the premier of the Soviet Union at the outset of his negotiations with President Eisenhower, it has lent itself to somewhat more embarrassment than the Chinese Communists could have foreseen.

The United States now says it will step up its military aid to Laos unless Khrushchev stops what he could not have started and has no power to stop. It says this at a time when the United States is being looked at askance by allies frankly skeptical of any move to bring President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev close together.

Mr. K may have noticed the nudge to his composure. He, too, may share the opinion that the diplomats of the United States are not the utter fools and ninnyes that many Americans think they are by comparison with the hard-bitten boys from London, Paris and — lately — Moscow.

Once Over

Nothing brands this the screwiest of ages more than teachers, lawyers, school boards and civil liberties groups hurrying through streets, blocked by juvenile gang "rumbles," on their way to hassle over whether non-denominational prayer in public schools is good for kids.

Above the shootings, screams and howl of squad cars it wasn't easy to hear the New York State Supreme Court decision that a 22 word prayer in opening school sessions would not violate the Constitution, if speedy and non-compulsory.

But even as the misguided moppets slash, shoot, main and kill in a serious juvenile crime wave, the opponents, of a few words with God in the course of child-education, brush off daily scenes of boy-and-girl jungle paganism as they carry the fight against prayer to higher courts.

What's all the fuss about? This "quicky" supplication:

"Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence on Thee and we beg Thy blessings upon us, our parents, our teachers and our country."

IMAGINE ANY CHILD, regardless of faith, creed or denomination, being hurt by this simple profession of belief in a divine being! Fancy legalistic quibblings which seem to substitute "Oh, schoolroom, schoolboards, teachers and courts, we beseech thee to guard against anything that can put tenderness, love and a scorn for violence in the heart of a child. We beg you all to fight the touch of faith that might save children from pagan patterns of viciousness leading them hell bent to prison and perhaps the chair."

Latest court decision is wishy-washy. It says school boards may allow, but not require the brief prayer and that children who do not wish to pray may COME LATE TO CLASS!

(We gotta stop now. There's another juvenile riot up the street, with an old man slugged by iron chains, a girl shot to death and four cops mobbed by kid hoodlums who seem to have wrong ideas about human decency, compassion and the teaching of all faiths.)

HAWAIIAN VOLLEGE now gives surf board lessons on credit cards. It must be tough trying to find the card in midair.

Cunard Line skipper of 30 years, master of Britannic, has been sacked on a charge of being too attentive to the ladies at the captain's table. If he delayed signs of over attention to women that long he would seem to be eligible for a medal as shy, backward and antisocial.

Dumpling Island, off New London harbor, long a lighthouse and coast guard station, was put up for sale by the government and bought for $18,000, as HIGHEST BID! It's a steal. The Island has a seven-room house, an electric plant, a boathouse, and slip. It's one of the coolest spots imaginable affording privacy with all the comforts. And in these days of fast boats it's a short run from the mainland. A modern bungalow on a crowded street in a hot valley costs more than that.

Demand for proof of adult delinquency got a boost from the law seminar in Miami Beach in which attorney conducting it had notorious racketeer as a guest speaker. The American Bar Association was holding a convention in the famed resort at the time. Maybe the Bar Association was busy on the beach or it would have let out a scream.

Walking Fast Not Running

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is the time—a few months before the 1960 election year—when would-be presidents try to make running look like just walking fast.

So it is no wonder New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller didn't actually say he needed more leg room when he climbed out of a political box this week.

On Aug. 3 the governor, a Johnny-come-lately to politics, reportedly told friends that by Nov. 1 he would make up his mind about trying for the Republican presidential nomination in 1960 on the basis of what public opinion polls were saying then.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, a political pro who has been warming up much longer than Rockefeller for the dash across the White House lawn, would never have let himself get into a box like that for a couple of reasons:

1. Time and events change public opinion. What the polls show Nov. 1 may be the opposite of the pollsters' findings six months later.

2. Polls may be wrong, as President Truman demonstrated in 1948 when the polls showed New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey a shoo-in but the disbelieving Truman ruined Dewey's presidential ambitions forever.

Even if the polls showed newcomer Rockefeller more popular, Nixon, the old pro, could still hope his deep and wide connections with Republican party politicians might get him the nomination anyway.

So it was no wonder, either, that on Aug. 14 he said polls wouldn't influence his decision about seeking the nomination. He said: "In one respect I'm like Harry Truman. I believe the only poll that counts is on election day."

Then, also, Rockefeller last week had dinner with Dewey, twice a presidential bridesmaid but never a bride, who was one of the prime forces in helping President Eisenhower get the Republican nomination in 1952.

No one ever accused Dewey of being a dumb political bunny although the way he campaigned against Truman wasn't very bright. He acted then like a man who didn't think he had to try because the polls said he was away out in front anyway.

Whether or not Dewey told Rockefeller about the political birds and bees — and how they may nest on poles but not on polls — the New York governor climbed out of the box those Aug. 3 reports put him in.

On Aug. 17 he told reporters in Albany he had never set a Nov. 1 deadline for deciding on running; and besides, public opinion polls would not be a controlling factor in his decision on running.

He put it this way: "My own decisions are going to be made on a positive basis in terms of the opportunity of service which I feel I might be able to render."

A pro reading that statement might translate it this way: "I'm not sticking my neck out by saying I will or I won't; I'll just wait to see how my chances look."

And Tuesday Rockefeller, for a man who hasn't yet said yes or no, showed considerable interest in the 1960 New Hampshire Republican presidential primary, which gives an indication of what Republican voters think of candidates.

He discussed it with Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH), a Nixon supporter.

It was in the same state's primary in 1958 that Dwight Eisenhower, a newcomer to politics, drubbed Robert A. Taft, the veteran Ohio senator who, like Nixon, was a political pro and had been exercising his leg muscles for the White House sprint a long time.

Demonstration of Trust

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Display of U.S. Friendship With Allies

The cheers of the people of western Europe for President Eisenhower—exuberant and affectionate—are a reminder of the historic friendship between the United States and its allies. But the demonstration's significance even more — how free peoples trust one another. This is something that peoples behind the iron curtain might well examine, for it contains the very ingredients of international understanding that someday could apply its benefits to the whole world.

In the personality of Dwight Eisenhower — a man of military background in the past but today a symbol of peace — the world sees a missionary seeking, by good will and a spirit of conciliation, to overcome the petty, narrow and self-centered policies of men in government that sometimes keep nations apart.

It is an open secret that Mr. Eisenhower is in western Europe this week as much to bind up the wounds of a strained governmental alliance with France as he is to prepare for the days next month in which he will represent the West in talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

DWIGHT EISENHOWER is popular in Europe as a man. But this is not simply because of his genial personality and innate friendliness. It is because of his record — he commanded the very forces that saved Britain and France 15 years ago. His acceptance by the people of West Germany is due largely to the fact that Gen. Eisenhower dealt with his defeated foes on a basis of decency and fairness.

Above all, President Eisenhower typifies the American spirit — the desire to see a nation like West Germany, which has repudiated Nazism and established a government of free institutions, preserve its independence and become reunited with their kinsmen in East Germany.

Every American president usually speaks in foreign affairs on behalf of the American people — there is less and less partisanship nowadays on such matters. Hence, a president of the United States, by a personal visit to countries allied with us, can accomplish a good deal to strengthen the ties with them.

Whatever may have been the original reasons that seemed to make it desirable for President Eisenhower to go overseas, the truth is that such a visit is constructively helpful in the long run and tends to remove a spirit of mutual concession in resolving differences.

Everybody knows that President De Gaulle is trying somehow to increase the prestige of France and his hold on his own country. He has several crucial points to discuss with Mr. Eisenhower, involving, of course, the plight of Algeria.

THE PRINCIPLE of American non-intervention in disputes inside other countries is well recognized everywhere but at the same time the yearning of colonial peoples for independence also strikes a sympathetic note in the United States.

Certainly the most important consideration is what will benefit a dependent people. To give them immediate independence is not always in their own best interest. Gradualism is a better approach, because economic disintegration and consequent suffering for the masses often follows too sudden a change in the governmental structure.

Indonesia, for example, has its independence today but is worse off than at any time since its people benefited by the enlightened colonialism of the Dutch government.

Mr. Eisenhower doesn't go to France as a mediator on the Algerian problem but to emphasize that Allied unity, especially in defense matters, is far more important than any other single factor in the internal situation confronting France.

To keep NATO planes from using bases inside France because the United States wouldn't grant information on nuclear weapons is petty tactics for any Frenchman to be practicing in these critical days.

After all, the United States has twice had to come to the rescue of France in world war crises and it would be a disservice to the people of France if, in this missile and atomic age, the weapons of war by which American planes could help stave off any attack on France were suddenly found lacking.

SURELY QUESTIONS like these, on sober second thought, will have to be handled with more tact in the future than they have been in the past, lest confidence in Gen. De Gaulle himself is weakened in America.

So far as relations with Britain are concerned, there is complete understanding and harmony. Mr. Eisenhower's visit to Bonn will reassure the West Germans that they are not to become the victims of a "deal" over West Berlin.

Entirely apart from the specific issues that must be dealt with by President Eisenhower on his mission to Bonn, London and Paris, it is heartening to see the western European peoples by their demonstrations showing the friendship they cherish for the people of America.

Maybe as Nikita Khrushchev examines the press reports, he will be a bit envious. If he could but understand it, peoples make heroes out of leaders who love humanity and freedom and show their disdain only for those who do not grasp the meaning of human love or its corollary — human freedom.

Rift In Soviet Science

By DAVID BARNETT

U.S. Intelligence sources see indications of friction within the Russian scientific community over plans to reform Soviet science.

The analysis is based on a comparison of the text of a resolution, passed by the General Assembly of the U.S.S.R. Academy of Sciences on March 28, and a full-page article published last Sunday in the government newspaper Izvestia.

The article, written by Nikolai N. Semynonov, a vice president of the academy and the Soviet's leading chemist, called for reorganization of the Soviet arrangement of academies in a way that apparently would leave to the Soviet Academy major control over research in pure sciences.

The text of the assembly resolution, recently obtained by the State Department's Bureau of Intelligence and Research, calls for long range scientific planning on a nationwide basis according to a scheme that would divide primary responsibility among various agencies.

THE ACADEMY would remain primary in natural and social sciences but with control shared with the Academies of Sciences of the Union Republics, the Ministry of Higher Education and the Ministry of Geology and Conservation of Minerals.

The top agency for technological sciences and new technology would be the State Scientific and Technological Committee of the Council of Ministers of the U.S.S.R., for agricultural sciences, the Ministry of Agriculture; for medical sciences, the Ministry of Health and for architecture and construction, the State Committee on Construction of the council of Ministers of the U.S.S.R.

Last December Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev proposed that more scientific research, apparently applied research, be financed by interested economic organizations rather than through the state budget.

The State Department's intelligence report on the meeting of the academy's assembly noted that, in the discussion, Khrushchev's proposal was affirmed by academician, B. S. Stechkin, "but this subject was not touched upon in the resolution."

The Semynonov article appeared to be a return more forcefully to the Khrushchev line. The chemist proposed that the heads of provincial institutes be given broader powers over financing applied research and priorities on order for new equipment.

UNDER THE resolution adopted by the assembly, about 100 scientific councils are to be formed to promote coordination and utilization of scientific resources. The councils are to include scientists and specialists supervising research on a common problem.

According to the State Department report, A. V. Topchiyev, a vice president of the academy, told the assembly the councils should "represent in the scientific sphere the form of popular participation in public administration which Khrushchev discussed at the 21st Party Congress."

Each council is supposed to prepare long range plans in its specialty and act as a watchdog over individual research institutions.

Dr. Semynonov was critical of the amount of administrative work required of scientists at the academy. He attempted to cut this down by moving out of the academy most of the technological operations that become involved in actual production of goods through applied research.

The Assembly of the Academy, on the other hand, established two new organs of the academy's presidency: One to handle "large questions of policy;" the other, current problems of administration.

Cooler Air Brings End to Long Hot Spell

By The Associated Press

A welcome flow of cool air moved into the central part of the country today, ending at least temporarily the seasons longest spell of hot and humid weather.

The cool air was felt in areas from northern Texas northward into South Dakota and into the eastern half of Colorado. It was expected to spread into most of the mid Mississippi Valley eastward to the lower Great Lakes region during the day.

Violent storms and rain broke out during the weekend in the muggy weather belt. Rain splashed most sections from the Atlantic Coast across the plains into Colorado. Gusts, winds, hail and heavy rain hit many areas Sunday and during the night. Lightning killed at least 10 persons over the weekend.

Sections of Texas were hammered by severe thunderstorms Sunday night. Winds up to 32 m.p.h. lashed the Dallas-Fort Worth area as the thunderstorms broke the 103-degree heat wave.

More than two inches of rain fell at Detroit, Syracuse, N. Y., Savannah, Ga., and Tallahassee, Fla. A tornado ripped through Devol, in southwest Oklahoma, destroying five houses, the city post office and injuring one person.

Five-Day Forecast

Temperatures expected to average 2 to 4 degrees above normal. Normal high 79 north to 82 south. Normal low 57-60. Only minor day-to-day changes during the week. Showers and scattered thunderstorms indicated south portion Wednesday and most of state Thursday. Rainfall averaging one-half to one inch with locally heavier amounts.

RAINS HIT NORTH CANTON

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A flash flood in North Canton Sunday kept village employees and volunteer workers busy pumping out some 30 basements and repairing damage to the sewage disposal plant. An estimated four inches of rain fell between 1-30 and 5 p.m. and water spilled over from a nearby creek, covering the grounds at the sewage plant. A power failure resulted, halting pumping.

TWINS BORN DEAD

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Siamese twin girls were born dead Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Statel Harris at Methodist Hospital here.

The twins were born face to face with their bodies joined at the breast bone.

sponsored by the Columbiana County Public Health League, but its activity won't be limited to making chest "pictures." The unit also will be equipped to offer tests for glycosuria (sugar in the urine) which may detect the presence of diabetes. The laboratory will be here during two days of the fair — Friday and Saturday, Sept. 11 and 12. Operating hours will be from 2 to 4 p.m. and 6 to 9 p.m.

DR. C. S. PALMER, county health commissioner, will discuss the county's health program at tonight's meeting of the Rotary Club, scheduled at Valley Golf Club dining room. D. W. Bailey is program chairman.

Kiwanis Club assembles this evening at Pavilion 2 in Firestone Park for its final summer informal assembly. The club will have a poke lunch meeting the following Monday, Labor Day, then will resume its normal schedule of dinner meetings at Heck's Restaurant.

Towasi Circle of the Presbyterian Church will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the church house, located next to the edifice on E. MAY SET RECORD

CINCINNATI (AP) — There may be an old record equaled in Cincinnati today, but few people will be very happy about it. The old mark is 45 straight days of temperatures 90 degrees or higher, set in 1935.

The peak here of 92 degrees Sunday was the 44th day in a string running back through July, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau, and more of the same is expected today.

DISEASE CLAIMS GIRL

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A rare degenerative disease of the central nervous system has ended in death of a girl who had been in a coma for more than three years.

Gloria Miller, 15, of Chambersburg, Pa., died Sunday in Harrisburg State Hospital. Doctors said there is no present cure for the disease.

5 Persons Killed In Ohio Traffic

Water Accidents Take Six Lives

Traffic 5
Drowning 6
Miscellaneous 2
Total 13

By The Associated Press
No news was good news the past weekend as the Associated Press took its weekly survey of traffic deaths in Ohio during the 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday period.

Not quite "no" news but the five traffic fatalities reported in the 54-hour period was well below the toll on any previous weekend for some time.

On the darker side six drownings were reported. With two miscellaneous fatalities the state's total accidental death list for the weekend amounted to 13.

Each of the reported fatalities came in a separate accident. Usually there are double - and multiple-fatal mishaps to swell the total.

What ever the reason for the relatively safe weekend safety officials are hoping it is not a sort of calm before a "storm" with the big Labor Day weekend coming up.

The fatalities:
Saturday
Robert B. Crouch, 33, of Dayton, struck by a freight train in that city.

Ellsworth Blair, 9, of Akron, drowned in a swimming pool at the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. recreation clubhouse.

Sunday
Frank Smith, 53, of Xenia, drowned after diving 20 feet off the Little Miami River Bridge into the water below.

John P. Lofland, 50, of Springfield, drowned when he fell while boarding a boat at the city dock at Put-In-Bay.

Wayne L. Stewart, 67, of Cleveland, drowned in Lake Erie there when, while fishing with his son, he fell off an eight-foot retaining wall.

Arlin Elam, 49, of Cozadale, when his car veered off Ohio 132 north of Batavia and struck a tree. Mrs. Mary Ann Krupp, 41, of Columbus, when her husband's car failed to make a curve on Ohio 751 just east of Whitehall, a Columbus suburb, and hit a tree.

Tillman Olson Jr., 35, of McConnelsville, drowned in the Mus-

Purring Cat Brings End to Life of Crime

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police say a purring cat brought an end to Richard Savoy's aspirations to a life of crime.

They said Savoy climbed into James A. Bentley's car in Los Angeles Saturday night and forced him at knifepoint to drive 55 miles to Oxnard and back. Bentley, 47, a Los Angeles engineer, said Savoy told him he was holding him hostage until he could get a deputy sheriff's gun with which to start a life of crime.

Also kidnapped was Bentley's cat, Goldie. En route back from Oxnard Goldie crawled into Savoy's lap and began to purr—and then went to sleep. Savoy relaxed. Soon he went to sleep, too.

Bentley spotted a police patrol car and flagged down the officers. They booked the 31-year-old Savoy on suspicion of kidnapping.

SNAKE BITES LABOKER

OWASSO, Okla. (AP) — A 27-year-old farm laborer ran a quarter of a mile Sunday with a water moccasin biting into his leg.

Jesse Crippen said the poisonous snake struck him while he was fishing at a farm pond. Unable to get it loose, he ran to the home of relatives who pulled it off.

He was reported in good condition at a Tulsa Hospital.

Governor Cites Need of Industrial Group

DiSalle Begins Speaking Tour In Trumbull County

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says his administration has met and is taking care of its responsibilities.

That was his theme over the weekend in his first three appearances on a 3½-week statewide tour to explain his program.

Speaking at the annual Trumbull County Democratic picnic Sunday, he said Ohio's new Department of Industrial and Economic Development will go to work to create one million jobs in the next 10 years. This is the goal which must be achieved to keep up with the states growth and to offer opportunity to its youth, he said.

Approximately 300 persons waited for nearly two hours in the rain to hear his speech. About 600 others were chased home when a thunderstorm broke and delayed DiSalle's arrival from Columbus. The governor began his tour Saturday afternoon by addressing a crowd of 300 at a school in Dayton. Then he addressed about 600 persons at a Democratic rally in Canton Saturday night.

He recalled that when he visited Warren during his campaign last year he promised to fight for improved pensions for the aged and to initiate a state program to encourage industrial development.

He said these promises have been kept with the passage of legislation to raise the $65-per-month ceiling on aid for the aged payments and to create the Department of Industrial and Economic Development.

Increasing the payments to the aged was one of the reasons that more taxes were needed, he explained.

DiSalle asserted that making more people eligible for aged pensions would cost the state about 12 million dollars and asked:

"Is it worth $1.10 a year to know that you are being decent to your neighbors who can't take care of themselves?"

DiSalle told his Canton audience that increased taxes were necessary because of the growth of the state and that the people should be prepared for continued increases in costs because of continued growth.

The states problems are being met because the Democratic majority in the Legislature "had the courage to face them," he said.

"The Legislature had the courage to increase the gasoline tax, but every mile of road that is being built will be paid for when it is laid down," he added.

"For years the opposition has been talking about pay-as-you-go, but it borrowed and deferred payment until the day came when it went out of office."

Ohio can face the future without fear because it is on a cash basis, DiSalle said.

The governor explained at Dayton that he raised taxes to keep Ohio off a stall-and-installment plan — stall in getting projects under way and later paying for them in installments.

The state is on a more economical pay-as-you-go basis and fully capable of meeting its responsibilities as a result of the increased taxes, he said.

DiSalle explained that Ohio can save 20 per cent by undertaking its projects on a cash basis instead of borrowing through bonds and paying in installments.

He said he did not choose to continue deficit spending and stall on some of the states responsibilities although it would have been politically easier that way.

"Industries who may want to locate here will know we are sound financially," he said.

HICKORY HOMEOWNERS Club met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. James Dustman of Canfield.

Mrs. Clifford Beck conducted the business meeting when plans were made to entertain their husbands at a wiener roast Sept. 24 at the home of Mrs. Edward Miller.

Crazy bridge was the diversion, with prizes going to Mrs. Ray Hostetter, Mrs. Lester Wisler and Mrs. Warner Weingart.

Mrs. Dustman served refreshments, assisted by her sister-in-law Mrs. Ada Walthman.

THE EIGHTH annual Ehrhart reunion was held recently at Cherry Lake Park, with 48 persons attending the picnic dinner at noon.

The afternoon was spent swimming, playing horseshoes and contests, with prizes going to Carol.

G. R. Huston Honored on Retirement

Friends and co-workers gathered at the Elks Home, Wednesday in honor of George R. Huston, a central office repairman, who is retiring from the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. after 36 years of service. There were 100 in attendance for the dinner and the evening of dancing that followed.

Mr. Huston started his career in 1913 with the old Columbiana County Telephone Co., which later became the Ohio State Telephone Co., and continued with them until the Ohio Bell was formed in 1921. He served as an outside combinationman primarily, around the Lisbon area until 1941 when he moved to Salem to become a central office equipment repairman.

He served in the first World War in France with the American Expeditionary Forces in 1917-1919.

Among those present besides Mr. and Mrs. Huston were their two daughters, Mrs. Maybelle Burcaw of Pittsburgh and Mrs. Lucy Warner of Columbus, Ohio. Their son, George Jr. of Chicago was unable to be present.

The honoree was presented several life certificates. They include one for his Bell System service, one for the Communication Workers of America - CIO, and the Telephone Pioneers of America.

Raymond Stiver, the local Plant Chief, presented the 36-year service emblem in the form of a diamond studded lapel pin. Dale Rhodes, central office foreman, presented gifts from the group to Mr. and Mrs. Huston.

Mr. Huston's plans for the future are indefinite but he proposes to remain in Salem.

Charles E. Dorn, district plant superintendent, was master of ceremonies. The committee making the arrangements consisted of Paul Shone, Joyce Wilson, and Dale Rhodes.

The couple will be married Sept. 26 at 5 p.m. at the bride's home. An open reception will follow at 7 p.m. at the Eagles Lodge in Salem.

Mrs. Francis D. McNicol

St. Paul Church Is Scene Of Schmidt-McNicol Nuptials

The Rev. Fr. J. Richard Gaffney was celebrant for the Saturday morning nuptial Mass which united in marriage Miss Patricia Ann Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Schmidt of 1043 E. 6th St., and Francis Derfus McNicol, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. McNicol of 242 W. 10th St.

The double ring ceremony was performed before the altar of St. Paul Catholic Church. It was decorated with palms, cibotium fern, schefflera, philodendron and grape ivy, together with two vase arrangements of white gladioli, pompons and carnations.

Miss Sarah Coleman, organist, accompanied Mrs. Eugene Hergenrother of Salem, who sang "Prayer for Perfect Life," "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a gown of imported silk organza, fashioned with an off-the-shoulder scoop neckline, brief sleeves and a fitted basque bodice. Appliques of swiss embroidery accented the bodice and circled the bouffant hooped skirt which featured a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was attached to a Dior bow, appliqued with lace and trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. On her prayer book, she carried an arrangement of stephanotis, white rose fleurettes, adiantum and a white orchid.

Identically attired in emerald green silk organza gowns were the maid of honor, Miss Sarah Eileen Scullion of Salem, and the bridesmaid, Mrs. John Keshock of Campbell and Mrs. Hergenrother of Salem.

When the couple left on an undisclosed wedding trip, the bride wore a black and white check suit with black and white accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. Upon their return, they will reside at 806 E. 6th St.

The bridegroom's parents entertained 60 guests at the rehearsal party Thursday evening at their home.

Miss Frances Irvin Becomes Bride of Raymond E. French

The Sebring Church of the Nazarene was the setting for the Aug. 22 wedding of Miss Frances Ruth Irvin and Raymond Edward French.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Reuben Irvin of Alliance and the late Mr. Irvin. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Foster French of Sebring and the late Mr. French.

Officiating at the double ring service was the Rev. H. Warren Mingledorff.

"Through the Years," "O Promise Me," "Saviour Like a Shepherd Lead Us" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Harold Hardy. The organist was Mrs.

Ralph Kropf.

William Groves of Sebring gave his sister-in-law in marriage. Her gown of Chantilly lace and tulle was fashioned with a molded bodice with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, and long tapered sleeves. The skirt ended in a chapel-length train.

A pillbox headpiece of tulle and lace held her fingertip-length veil of imported French illusion. She carried a white Bible showered with stephanotis and centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Oren Irvin of Sebring, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Ella Mae Irvin of Sebring, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

They wore ballerina-length gowns of pink nylon net over tulle, with matching Dior bow headbands. Pink and white carnations formed their colonial bouquets.

David Sweely of Sebring was best man. The bridegroom's brothers, Charles and Austin French of Sebring, served as ushers.

The bride's mother was attired in a beige lace dress with matching accessories and a corsage of tangerine carnations, while the bridegroom's mother chose a light blue lace dress with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

A pink and white motif was carried out at the reception held in Haggart Hall of the Alliance YWCA. Mrs. Gerald Halvstadt, Mrs. Charles French, Mrs. Austin French of Sebring and Mrs. Carl Moshgat of Beloit served. Miss Grace Crawford of Sebring was in charge of the guest book.

A graduate of Sebring McKinley High School and Mount Union College, the bride is employed as a teacher at North Lincoln School in Alliance. Mr. French graduated from Sebring High School and is employed by United Cooperatives, Inc. of Alliance.

Niagara Falls and the Pocono Mountains are the couple's honeymoon destination. For traveling, the bride wore a white dress with pink accessories and an orchid corsage. They will be at home at 10 W. Oxford St. in Alliance.

The bride's sister, Mrs. William Groves of Sebring, was hostess at the rehearsal party.

It can positively be reported that American intelligence agencies believe that the Communist party of the Soviet Union had decided that the best tactic for infiltration, influencing and final seizure of strategic Cuba is to convince Fidel Castro and his military brother, Raul, that China is the image in which to remake Cuba.

Demonstrations were given by Judy McCracken, a mitered corner; Susan Sweely, making a bed; Lavonda McCracken, packing a lunch.

Lunch was served by Geraldine Borton. Sept. 12 at 8 p.m. a wiener roast will be held at Mile Branch Grange Hall.

There have been special Moscow and Peiping agents in Havana for months pushing this line. They have been cordially received by intimates of Fidel Castro. Gifts and glowing words have been sent back to Mao Tse-tung, Soviet China's supreme Marxist and leader.

If this Moscow - Peiping undercover drive succeeds, then all American property will be expropriated. Within a few minutes flying time our coast there will be an island of Chinese-style communes.

THIS ALSO WILL MEAN — in the opinion of our intelligence people — that Mao Tse-tung and his Sovietized Chinese will make turbulent history by pushing Peiping's foot through the front door of the Western Hemisphere.

Scores of Cuban Communists, trained in Moscow and traveling on papers forged in the Russian capital, are back in Havana under orders to infiltrate on three fronts.

First, the agricultural workers and their "agrarian reform" movement, similar to that which the Red Chinese used so successfully in the Orient. Two, the labor unions. Three, the Army.

All three drives are reporting success to their home office, namely the Central Committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union (CPSU).

All Cuban Communist operatives have been directed to intensify their campaigns during Nikita Khrushchev's stay in the United States.

Not satisfied with Moscow-trained Cubans, the Soviet secret police dispatched one of its top agents to Cuba late last May. He is Vadim Kotcherin.

HIS INSTRUCTIONS were to hand specific directives to the Cuban Communist party, known as The Popular Socialist party, "on how to penetrate and exploit the government of Fidel Castro."

This is a direct quote from Gen. C. P. Cabell, deputy director of the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency.

Vadim Kotcherin's orders included detailed instructions on how to agitate for a new Cuba made up of Red Chinese - type communes. Kotcherin, who came as a commingled member of a Moscow trade union delegation, returned home recently.

He was, however, quickly replaced by Chinese Communist intelligence agents who flew in as part of a 30-man Peiping press group. That's mighty large coverage for a small island, even if there are 30,000 to 40,000 Chinese farm workers in Cuba.

There is also a Communist Chinese newspaper firm on the island organized by the New China News Agency—an arm of Peiping's propaganda intelligence and espionage systems.

These Red Chinese were well received by Raul Castro, Cuba's commander-in-chief. With a gracious gesture in the direction of Communist China, Raul Castro sent a model tank to Marshal Chu Teh in Peiping.

RAUL CASTRO got off a pretty speech to the Soviet - Communist Chinese newsmen.

"Mao Tse-tung is one of the most respected figures among the Latin-American youth," Raul said in this hitherto unreported talk. "There are many things in common between Cuba and China."

"China had a Chiang Kai-shek and Cuba had a Batista and the enemies of both peoples were supported by the same international reaction."

Castro then asked the Chinese newsmen to convey his gratitude to the Chinese people and the Chinese People's Liberation Army "for their great sympathy and support for the Cuban revolution." This Chinese Liberation Army is the one which fought our troops in Korea.

Everywhere in Raul's circles the key word is "agrarian reform." Recently, for example, one of Fidel Castro's secretaries, Teresa Casuso, returned to Havana from Peiping. She announced that China's commune system was the right way for Cuba.

This land of ours soon will have some very interesting neighbors.

Mrs. Leland Sponseller

MINERVA — Mrs. Mildred "Mid" Sponseller, 42, of 730 E. Lincoln Way, died of cancer at her home at 9:30 a.m. Sunday following an extended illness.

Mrs. Sponseller, a former employee of the Minerva Wax Paper Co., was born in Alliance and lived in Minerva almost all of her life.

She was a member of the Minerva Christian Church and the U and I Sunday School Class.

She also was a member of Bayard Grange.

She was a 1935 graduate of Minerva High School.

She leaves her husband, Leland H. Sponseller of the home; her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Irwin of agreement in the Big Three Geneva conference on banning of nuclear weapons tests. No details were given.

3. The East-West deadlock over the future of Berlin and Germany. Eisenhower was said to have indicated that he will discuss this issue informally with Khrushchev in Washington next month.

4. U.S.-British defense matters and ways of militarily strengthening the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Again no details were given.

5. Eisenhower's ideas for a big new effort to help raise living standards in the have-not nations of the world. Britain already is pledged to cooperate with the United States along these lines. But the two leaders were said to have considered ways of broadening the basis of their efforts so other interested powers could join.

Most of these issues are expected to arise in one form or another during the Eisenhower talks with Khrushchev.

Eisenhower got another mighty "I like Ike salute from Londoners today as he rode through the heart of the city to St. Paul's Cathedral.

Thousands massed around St. Paul's as the President and Prime Minister rolled up in an open car. They went to the cathedral to spend a solemn half hour in the chapel Britain built in memory of 28,000 Americans who lost their lives in World War II and have been based in the United Kingdom.

The President returned to the city for a round of appointments and an informal, televised report to the world with Macmillan tonight on their talks about future relations between the West and the Soviet Union.

The sound portion of the Eisenhower-Macmillan telecast will be relayed to the United States for broadcast live by American radio networks. Tapes of the program will be flown across the Atlantic for showing on American TV. The British Broadcasting Corp. and Europe's Eurovision network will carry the appearance to a potential audience of nearly 100 million viewers in Western Europe.

"We don't know what they are going to say," said a BBC spokesman. "There is no script."

The President had a full schedule after his drive back with Macmillan from Chequers. It included a half-hour visit to the chapel in St. Paul's Cathedral which commemorates American World War II dead who were stationed in Britain, a conference with Spanish Foreign Minister Fernando Arias Castella, and—after the telecast—a formal dinner given by Macmillan at his official residence, No. 10 Downing St.

Britain's wartime chief, Sir Winston Churchill, flew back to London from a Riviera vacation to attend the dinner with his old comrade in arms and also another Tuesday night which Eisenhower is giving for a large group of his wartime associates.

During the weekend at Chequers, Eisenhower and Macmillan met with their foreign ministers for an hour Saturday night and for another hour Sunday morning before church. The two leaders also talked alone several times, including during an unscheduled two-hour drive they made through the English countryside to Oxford University.

The President and the prime minister attended Anglican services at the 800-year-old church of St. Peter and St. Paul, a few miles from Chequers.

The vicar, the Rev. Cyril Norman Whit, complained in his sermon: "Two of the greatest men in the world have broken off their conferences in order to turn to God, to seek his blessing, his guidance and his grace."

After the service, standing in the brilliant sunshine, Eisenhower said to the vicar: "Thank you for your sermon. I feel God is what we need."

TWO BICYCLES RECOVERED

Two bicycles reported stolen over the weekend from Centennial Park were recovered by police on S. Ellsworth Ave. and returned to the owners.

One bicycle was found at the rear of the Church Budget Envelope Co., 271 S. Ellsworth Ave. and the other was recovered on S. Ellsworth Ave.

Duane Simick of 988 Fair St. and Mrs. Mike Perry of 553 E. 4th St., reported the thefts.

Minerva; and one brother, Wayne Irwin of Robertsville.

Funeral services will be Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Gotschall-Hutchison Funeral Home here, with the Rev. Arthur Poll officiating. Burial will be in Fairmount Memorial Park at Alliance.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

The family requests material tributes to take the form of contributions to the cancer fund.

A. L. Knight

MINERVA — A. L. "Al" Knight, 83, of 321 Wine St. died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Willis of RD 1, East Rochester, at 7:45 p.m. Sunday following an extended illness.

Mr. Knight was last employed by the Minerva Transfer Co. He was a former employee of the Owen China Co. of Minerva.

A life-long resident of the Minerva area, he was born near East Rochester.

His first wife was Ola Harsh Knight who died in July, 1911. He next married Norma Stackhouse who died in May 1916.

He leaves his daughter, two sons, Victor and Ralph of Minerva; one stepson, Corman Ackelson of Malvern; a halfsister, Mrs. Jane Kline of Lisbon; 15 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. at the Gotschall-Hutchison Funeral Home, with the Rev. Ricard Rothman, pastor of the Murray Ave. Church of God, officiating. Burial will be in the Moultrie Chapel Cemetery near New Franklin.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening after 7.

Eldon R. Ramsey

KENSINGTON — Eldon R. Ramsey, 81, of RD 1, Kensington died of complications at 6:25 p.m. on Saturday at Aultman Hospital in Canton, following a two-year illness.

Born at Dungannon, Aug. 13, 1878, he had lived most of his life in this vicinity.

Survivors include his wife, Kathleen Minor Ramsey, whom he married in 1951; six sons, Walter of Alliance, Wilson of Minerva, Lester of Mantua, Eldon Jr., Paul and Thomas, all at home; four daughters, Mrs. Lawrence Gillespie and Mrs. William Nezbeith of Warren, Mrs. Lester Kuntzman of Alliance and Susan, at home; 26 grandchildren; and 44 great-grandchildren. His firstwife, Annetta Stulter Ramsey, died in 1932.

Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Maple Funeral Home here. The Rev. Alvin Garrett of the Pentecostal Church here will officiate, with burial in Grove Hill Cemetery in Hanoverton.

There will be no calling hours.

Mrs. John Kiliany

LEETONIA — Mrs. Anna Kiliany, 59, of 211 Oak St. died of complications at 6:45 p.m. Sunday at her home.

Born in Czechoslovakia July 23, 1900, she was the daughter of Michael and Anna Mohocko Dubal.

She was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, the Altar and Rosary Society and the Ladies Catholic Benevolent Association.

Survivors include her husband, John Kiliany, whom she married Nov. 18, 1919; two sons, Joseph and Thomas of Leetonia; four daughters, Mrs. Mary Dudick of Leetonia, Mrs. Dorothy Zimmerman of Columbiana, Mrs. Eleanor Zimmerman of Washingtonville and Miss Louise Kiliany at home; a sister, Mrs. Mary Brown of Cleveland; and 10 grandchildren. A brother, John and a sister, Elizabeth, preceded her in death.

Solemn High Mass will be sung at services Wednesday at 9 a.m. in St. Patrick's Church. The Rev. W. W. Maund will officiate with burial in Mount Calvary Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Woods Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Senior High

8:15 a.m. As soon as the building has been entered, everyone should go directly to his home room.

In the home room, each pupil will receive a copy of his daily program of recitations and study halls. After a short home room period, the schedule of classes and study halls will be run. All pupils should have pencils the first day.

Tuesday, Sept. 8, at 1 p.m., the 10th graders and all new junior and new seniors will meet in the high school gymnasium. At this meeting they will be given directions for starting school, will find out where their home rooms and class rooms are located, and will be given much useful information which will help them get started.

Home room assignments will be announced within a few days. The enrollment the opening day last year was 706. This number grew to 727 before the year was over, largely due to new pupils moving into the city from other communities.

With The Patients

Mrs. Mary Diamond of RD 4, Lisbon, who has been confined in City Hospital since July 31, is reported improving.

Young Girl Seeks Parental Consent For Operation

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—"I love my parents and I believe they have a right to their beliefs. But I believe I have a right to my sight and my life.

Charlene Butts, 19, is struggling with a dilemma.

Physicians say she has a tumor on the pituitary gland in the brain and probably will be blind in two years and dead in four or five. She has lost 40 per cent of her sight.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butts of Oswego, Kan., have refused to consent to surgery for their daughter.

Atty. Emil C. Anderson Jr., has petitioned the District Court here in Miss Butts behalf, requesting she be declared an adult so she can give her consent for the operation.

She says a nonmedical practitioner with a clinic in rural Oklahoma has convinced her father there is nothing wrong with her. "I took 11 treatments from him," she said. "I think my parents paid him about $81 for them."

"He flicked his finger in front of my eyes a couple of times and then told me my eyesight wasn't damaged 40 per cent."

"He told my parents there was an excess of water in my system, that it was filling up my lungs and my head."

The girl returned to her $37.50-a-week clerical job here after the treatments, but began having blackouts.

"My mother would give her consent immediately," Charlene said, "but she won't go against my father."

"This man down there has just convinced them there is nothing wrong with me."

Charlene's father declined comment on his daughter's statement.

Oklahoma Ends Prohibition After 52 Year Period

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oklahomans today prepared to come off the wagon legally for the first time in 52 years.

It is the last full day of a prohibition era which began at statehood Nov. 1, 1907. Legal sales over the counter will begin at 10 a.m. Tuesday at an estimated 500 package stores.

Retailers rushed to get stocks on the shelves as state officials cleared the way for the new industry.

Gov. J. Howard Edmondson has called for an era of temperance. Elizabeth House, of Stillwater, president of the Womens Christian Temperance Union, has asked Oklahomans to pray for protection "from this terrible holocaust of liquor."

The clock began running out on prohibition last April 7 when Oklahoma voted for repeal. Nearly three months later the Legislature finished a control bill. Since then the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board has been busily setting up regulations and issuing licenses.

Whisky and other liquors have been shipped into the state steadily in recent days. Supplies will still be incomplete on opening day, however, because of slow delivery of state tax stamps.

Under the repeal act stores will be limited to cities of more than 200 population. No public drinking will be permitted although private clubs apparently are planning to operate.

Bootleggers have been closing doors in recent days. Some, however, say they will stay in business and can beat the prices of legal sales based on the states tax of $2.40 per gallon.

But the last stronghold of "the boots—as they have been called in Oklahoma—may be Mississippi, only state in the Union that remains constitutionally dry.

Eight Injured

Sunday, George Smith, 50, of Mingo Junction was arrested after his car struck an auto operated by Kenneth Frye, 23, of Newell, W. Va., as Frye stopped for a stop sign on Rt. 7 at the junction of Rt. 30 near Cannons Mills.

Lisbon post patrolmen arrested Jack Stephens, 25, of RD 2, Columbiana, early this morning for reckless driving after he fell asleep at the wheel on County Rd. 440, about a half mile east of Columbiana, causing his car to hit a utility pole.

hangs out about 30 blocks away from the playground.

One of the survivors said an attacker yelled "we don't allow gringos near the park." Spanish-speaking people sometimes use "gringo" as a contemptuous word for North Americans.

The area where the violence broke out is not far from the old Hell's Kitchen section. It is an area of run-down tenements, where there is a delicate balance of tension between the older elements—Italians and others—and Puerto Rican newcomers.

The two 16-year-old boys, Anthony Krzesinski and Robert Young, staggered into tenements across the street before they collapsed and died.

Ewald Riemer, 18, was in fair condition in a hospital, suffering from a stab wound in the abdomen.

Harold Luken, 16, suffered less serious injuries when he was hit on the head with a bottle. His sister, Sandy, 14, escaped unhurt.

Orphanos was beaten with an umbrella, a 15-year-old girl with him, whose name was not disclosed, was punched in the face. Tony Wozniakites, 15, was slugged several times.

Girl Trapped In Refrigerator Is Recovering

CINCINNATI (AP) — Debby Tucker, 6-year-old who police say spent half a day jammed inside a running refrigerator, is recovering at General Hospital today.

Detectives said they plan to file charges against Charles Thomas Crawford, 21, who they said admitted molesting the girl before stuffing her into the refrigerator.

Hospital aides said the youngster was unconscious when brought in early Sunday but revived about three hours later.

Her stepfather, Kenneth Spangler, 24, discovered her in the refrigerator of an unused apartment next to the Spangler apartment.

Spangler and his wife had just returned from a search with police and neighbors for the girl. Mrs. Spangler heard a moan from an unused apartment and Spangler investigated.

"She was practically frozen when I pulled her out," he said.

U.S. Senate Hears Report On Red Threat

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Soviet threat to dominate the world requires the free nations to pool money and weapons for a struggle that could last 20 years, a report to the Senate says.

The work of a private research firm, the report called for austerity and belt-tightening among Western nations, plus strong measures to expand their economies and increase military strength.

The report, prepared by the Corporation for Economic and Industrial Research, Inc., was published over the weekend by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The report urged these military measures:

Quick development of an effective defense against intercontinental missiles before the Soviets achieve one.

Full exploitation of "our vast superiority in electronic processing and computer processing."

Expansion of mechanized, powerful forces "to prevent Communist expansion by 'local' conventional warfare."

"These costs heavily," the report said, "but the United States and its allies have a 3-to-1 superiority in economic resources over the Communist bloc."

U.S. programs to date have only been enough to buy limited "term insurance" against Soviet threats, it said, and a 10-to-20 year "endowment policy" is needed to "face the facts of future Soviet power politics."

Student

cation papers into the nearby Huron River.

"Nobody ever goes up there (the caves) because there is no reason to go there," he told police and university officials in the Washtenaw County jail.

He said he skipped rope for exercise and ate only one meal a day.

"Once I went three days without food. You get used to hunger."

To help while away the time he read books and magazines he took from the church library.

The former student was ordered held in the jail pending an Immigration Service investigation concerning his expired student's visa.

Walter B. Rea, university dean of men, said he may be allowed to re-enter the university if he can clear himself with immigration officials and meet school entrance requirements.

Cheng entered Albion College on his student visa. He transferred to the University of Michigan to take engineering. Part of his educational expenses were paid by the Methodist Church and by the church's Wesley Foundation.

"I didn't live up to what they expected of me," the 5-foot-7 student said, "I think this is the worst thing a man can do. It makes him kind of a fraud."

"I'm glad it's over now. I hoped it would happen from the start. I didn't have the courage to do it myself."

University officials said the student probably disappeared on the weekend of Oct. 8-9 in 1955.

Speedway Bad Boy Dies In Burning Racer

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Speedway bad boy Ed Elisian, suspended last year as the trigger man in a 16-car fatal crash at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, died screaming Sunday in the flames of his green racing car.

Elisian, 32, from Oakland, Calif., returned to the tracks only last June 7, making his first start in a 100-mile big car race at the Wisconsin fair grounds, scene of Sunday's wreck.

Elisian's car, traveling at an estimated 130 miles an hour, skidded on an oil slick, crashed into the wall, overturned and burst into flames. The car rode the retaining wall 200 feet, then flipped upside down on the one-mile paved track.

Elisian waved his arms and screamed as he tried to free himself from his burning car.

The wreck came on the 28th lap of the 200-mile national championship race won by Roger Ward of Indianapolis. The race was the feature of the final day of the 1959 Wisconsin State Fair and drew 21,856 spectators.

Elisian had been racing nine years.

A bachelor, Elisian raced into controversy in the 1958, 500-mile race at Indianapolis after setting a single lap qualifying record for the Memorial Day classic. On the first lap of the race, 16 cars were involved in a splintering crash which killed Pat O'Connor of North Vernon, Ind.

Elisian later was set down for one year "for conduct detrimental to racing."

The suspension involved the Indianapolis wreck, bad checks, and speeding off the tracks.

Bow Says Moscow Trip Worthwhile

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Frank T. Bow (R-Ohio) told constituents today a trip he recently took to Moscow was well worth whatever it cost the government.

An economy-minded congressman, Bow and some other members of the House Appropriations Committee made a five-day round trip by air to inspect the United States exposition in Moscow.

This prompted an Alliance man to write Bow a one-sentence letter: "Why did you go to Moscow?"

Bow replied in his news letter to constituents:

"I went to Moscow because I must pass judgment, as a member of the Appropriations Committee, on requests for many millions of dollars to prepare American exhibits for a great number of trade fairs and international exhibitions."

"Our exhibits in Moscow cost $3,600,000. I have had grave misgivings about the wisdom of these fairs in general and about the Moscow exposition particularly."

"That is why I went to Moscow, and I can assure my Alliance correspondent that the cost of the trip, if that is what concerns him, is infinitesimal compared to the

Chicago Takes Pair 6-3, 9-4 to Drop Cleveland 5½ Back

McLish, Bell Knocked Out

66,586 See Rout; Piersall Is Hurt

CLEVELAND (AP) — Manager Al Lopez refuses to count his Chicago White Sox "in" with their first American League pennant since 1919, despite a 5½-game lead with only 25 games to play.

"We've still got a long way to go," the wily Lopez said after his team completed a four-game rout of the second place Cleveland Indians here Sunday.

"You can't afford to relax in this league. The Indians aren't out of it by any means," Lopez asserted.

"They beat the devil out of us," said Cleveland Manager Joe Gordon, shaken after watching the Indians get trounced 6-3 and 9-4. The 66,586 fans left the Stadium with the feeling of "wait 'til next year" for Cleveland pennant hopes.

But Gordon agreed with Lopez that the race is not over yet. "Sure, the White Sox have a good lead now," Gordon remarked. "But that can change within a week. You never can tell what's going to happen to a ball club. They might hit a losing streak and we can get hot again and the race is wide open again."

The White Sox have beaten the Indians 13 times in 18 meetings this season, but Lopez discounted a theory Chicago has a jinx over Cleveland. He admitted his team played better ball against the Tribe than against any other club.

"We just seem to do everything right them," he explained. "All season long we've been playing one game at a time and trying to keep our pitching rotation going. We've been lucky there, too."

"The White Sox play their best against the contenders and we play our worst," Gordon said disgustedly. The teams play each other four more times, a three-game series in Chicago next weekend and a single game here Sept. 22.

The Chicago players whooped it up in the dressing room, but when photographers asked Lopez to pose with a broom to show how the Indians were swept out of the pennant race, he cautioned: "Let's not have any of that. We still have 25 tough games to play."

Looking back on the four-game set—coming into it Chicago led by 1½ games and Cleveland had won eight in a row—Lopez said: "(Dick) Donovan's game (a 2-0 decision over rookie Jim Perry Saturday) was the big one for us. I never expected a sweep. I would have been satisfied with just splitting the four games."

None of the Chicago players felt like counting on World Series money yet. Only Early Wynn (17-9), who posted his 26th career victory in the opener with the help of Gerry Staley, felt somewhat optimistic.

"It looks very good for us," said Wynn with a big smile. Wynn, trailing 2-0 against Cal McLish, the Cleveland ace, started the White Sox rolling with a five-run outburst in the sixth inning by slamming a 400-foot homer over the right field fence. It seemed to upset Cal and he never was the same again. Before that McLish had retired 13 straight batters and limited Chicago to one hit over the first five frames.

Jim Piersall, Cleveland center fielder, pulled a muscle in his neck when he swung hard for a third strike in the fifth inning of the nightcap. He staggered to the dugout and was carried to the dressing room on a stretcher, but was permitted to go home after a brief rest and treatment by a physician.

The four-game series drew a total of 165,091 cash customers, raising Cleveland's home attendance to 1,348,258 — highest in seven years.

Sports Glances

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

The time has come for Coach Earle Bruce to make a decision on his starting fullback for this season.

Pete Schmauch and Ron Janovec have been sharing the chores since the opening day of practice and both have done the job in impressive fashion. From the beginning it has been apparent that both of these boys carry too much punch to have either riding the bench. The question has been who would stay at fullback and who would move to one of the halfbacks.

Bruce called his coaches together Sunday night to go over films of the Quakers' two scrimmages last week. Bruce said he would put it up to his coaching staff to make the decision on the switch. Fans who attend either of today's practice sessions will be able to see the outcome of the coaches' voting because Janovec or Schmauch will be operating from a halfback post for the first time this year.

TOO MUCH TALENT at one position may not sound like much of a problem but Bruce is afraid of what a wrong decision here might do to the effectiveness of his club. He knows that Schmauch can play halfback, because that was his position.

Polo Club Beats Mahoning Team

Rain Halts Game After 3 Chukkers

In a contest abbreviated to three chukkers by rain, the Salem Polo Club rode to its first win in six tries against Mahoning Valley on Sunday with a 5-3 victory on the local field.

Playing before its largest home crowd of the season, the Salem Club spotted the Youngstowners three quick goals in the first period, then roared back with five consecutive points before the half-time bell. The game was never resumed after the first half due to a driving rain which scattered the large crowd and made the field unplayable.

The game goes into the record book as a Salem victory. After losing its first contest to Salem, Mahoning Valley's season record stands at 13 wins and nine losses. Salem's record now shows six victories and 12 setbacks.

Jack Zedaker and Eddie Roberts combined to give Mahoning three quick goals in the first chukker before Salem's Jack Arnold drilled a long angle shot from the side.

Phil Thompson broke away from the Youngstown defenders to account for the only score in the second chukker. Salem still trailed 3-2 going into the third period. Lloyd Brunner converted a Youngstown drive-in to a score tying marker for Salem as he intercepted the ball at about 40 yards and sent it flying between the goal posts with one well-placed smash.

Youngstown threatened to score again but the alert Brunner backed the ball from between the Salem goal posts and put the locals on the attack once again.

Capt. Jimmy Bahr took command at this point and accounted for Salem's last two markers. The final point was a screaming smash which Bahr took after Mahoning Valley was charged with a safety.

Salem will be on the road next weekend to take on Cincinnati in games Sunday and Memorial Day. Their next home game is scheduled for Sept. 27 against Beaver Valley. There is a possibility of a game being re-scheduled here on Sept. 13 instead of the away game with Columbus Harbor Hills.

Bucs Turn Back Phils 7-6, 2-1

Face Wins 17th Without A Loss

By The Associated Press

A little bit of luck and a lot of base hits have helped Elroy Face run up an amazing winning streak that now has reached 17 triumphs for 1959 and 22 without a defeat since May 31, 1958.

Face posted No. 17 Sunday as the Pittsburgh Pirates came from behind to defeat Philadelphia 7-6 after winning the opener of the doubleheader 2-1. The twin triumph boosted the fourth place Bucs to within four games of the front-running San Francisco Giants.

Face needs two more victories to equal Rube Marquard's record of 19 in one season and Carl Hubbell's mark of 24 consecutive wins in two.

Los Angeles' second place Dodgers climbed to within two games of San Francisco, also coming from behind to nip the Giants 7-6. Chicago's Cubs kept their place Milwaukee three games off the pace, defeating the Braves 3-2. Cincinnati topped St. Louis 6-4.

Face was saved from his first defeat when the Pirates tallied twice in the bottom of the 10th after Ed Bouchee's homer off Elroy had given the Phils a temporary 6-5 lead.

Dick Stuart, who had hit a ninth inning home run as a pinch hitter, broke up the game with a two-run double. It followed a single by Don Hoak and a walk to Billy Virdon.

Bob Skinner's ninth inning single drove in the winning run in the opener and gave Harvey Had-dix his 11th victory. The second game victory was Pittsburgh's 18th in 20 extra inning games.

An error by Willie McCovey, rookie Giant first baseman, allowed the Dodgers to score the winning run in the bottom of the ninth. There were two out, bases full and 3-2 on Norm Larker. The batter hit the next pitch on the ground inside first base. McCovey bobbled it and Wally Moon trotted in from first with the winning run. Moon's triple a few minutes earlier.

The best looking varsity performers to date have been tackles Ned Chappell and Joe Julian and ends Chuck Horn and Tony Petrucci.

The Reds snapped a 4-4 tie with two unearned runs in the eighth for their victory over St. Louis.

Detroit Dumps Kansas City 4-0

Washington Tops New York 3 to 1

By The Associated Press
Chicago's amazing "go-go" White Sox boasted their biggest lead of the season today — 5½ games — after having virtually shattered Cleveland's pennant hopes with a sweep of their vital four-game series.

Al Lopez' pennant-bound club humbled the Indians twice Sunday 6-3 and 9-4 to give a Cleveland crowd of 66,586 little to cheer about.

Detroit took undisputed possession of third place, one game ahead of New York, by shutting out Kansas City 4-0 while Washington was trimming the Yankees 3-1. Boston blanked Baltimore 3-0.

A couple of former Indians, Early Wynn and Al Smith, and a pair of veteran relief aces, Gerry Staley and Turk Lown, were the key men in the White Sox' double triumph over Cleveland.

Wynn was credited with the first game victory, his eighth in nine decisions against his former mates since being traded two seasons ago. His home run in the sixth ignited the winning five-run rally. Although relieved by Staley in the eighth, he tied Detroit's Frank Lary for the league's most victories with 17. It was the 39-year-old right-hander's 26th life time triumph, pushing him into a tie with Bob Feller and Eppa Rixey.

Barry Latman, 23-year-old right-hander, was credited with his eighth Chicago victory in the second game but it took a scoreless four-inning relief chore by Lown to cement the victory. Smith, who went along with Wynn in the trade with Chicago, drove in three runs for the White Sox with a home run and single. He also scored twice.

Don Mossi hurled a three-hit shutout for the Tigers and hit his first major league home run as he struck out eight Kansas City batters for his 12th victory. Bud Daley, in his third unsuccessful bid for his 16th victory, was charged with his ninth defeat.

Frank Sullivan pitched a four-hit shutout as Boston swept the three-game series with Baltimore. Gene Stephens homered for the Red Sox. Boston's two other runs came on passed balls by Gus Triandos. The Baltimore catcher, unable to cope with Hoyt Wilhelm's knuckleball, was charged with four passed balls, equalling a major league record.

Rookie outfielder Bob Allison smashed his 29th home run and Jim Lemon drove in Washington's other two runs with a single to give Russ Kemmerer his eighth victory. Kemmerer and Tex Clevenger combined to hold the Yankees to five hits including a ninth inning home run by Hector Lopez.

Alex Olmedo had put the United States back in the running for the cup with a 9-7, 4-6, 10-8, 1½-10 victory in the opening singles match.

Bears Defeat Steelers 54-17; 49ers Turn Back Browns 17-14

By The Associated Press
The Chicago Bears have an explosive three-pronged air attack built around the B-Boys waiting for Johnny Unitas and the National Football League champion Baltimore Colts.

Favored to retain their title with the aerial accuracy of Unitas paving an easy path, the Colts will be hard pressed by the Bears' quarterbacking trio of Ed Brown, Rudy Bukich and Zeke Bratkowski.

The Bears, runners-up to the Colts in the Western Division last year, romped to their third consecutive exhibition victory over the weekend, overwhelming the Pittsburgh Steelers 54-17. Bratkowski, who had tossed touchdown passes in the first two wins, sat out most of the game to let Coach George Halas get a further look at Bukich and Brown.

Brown connected on TD strikes of 42 and 38 yards to Willard Deweall and Bill McColl and scored once himself. Bukich threw a seven-yarder to Deweall for one and plunged for another.

In the other games during the weekend, San Francisco handed Cleveland its third straight setback 17-14; New York mauled Detroit 38-0; Green Bay defeated Philadelphia 45-23, and Los Angeles knocked off Chicago's Cardinals 34-21.

Interceptions by tackles Fred Williams and Joe Robb keyed the Bears to a three-TD first-quarter lead which they never relinquished. Williams went 77 yards for a score with a Bobby Layne pitch and Robb rambled 24 yards to the Steeler 7 with another.

Y. A. Tittle passed 48 yards to Hugh McElhenny and eight yards to Billy Wilson for first-quarter scores, but the 49ers margin of victory was a 23-yard fourth-period field goal by rookie Tom Davis. Jimmy Brown scored both Cleveland touchdowns on runs of 70 and two yards.

The Giants won it early as Alex Webster cracked over from two yards out in the first quarter for all the margin New York needed. The veteran Charley Conerly fired the Giants in the second half with scoring airdrafts of 25 and 31 yards to Frank Gifford.

The Packers won their second in three games with an alert defense led by rookie Bob Freeman of Auburn. Freeman intercepted three passes, setting up one score and counting a touchdown with a 30-yard runback. Norm Van Brocklin kept the Eagles in the game, passing for 373 yards and three touchdowns.

Rams' quarterback Billy Wade and Frank Ryan directed Los Angeles to touchdowns in every quarter for their first victory in three games. The Cards couldn't keep pace as they lost their first after three wins.

The longest water ski jump recorded in the United States is 140 feet by 19-year-old Mike Osborn of Cypress Gardens, Fla., in this year's Lakeland Tournament.

The largest fish ever caught on rod and reel in United States waters was a 961½ pound tuna, boated by a vacationing angler two miles off Rhode Island's Matunuck Beach in 1951.

Salona Deming's Drop Contests

2 Salem Teams Ousted From Invitational Play

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

Two Salem teams had the dubious distinction of being the first clubs ousted from the 32-team Salem Invitational Softball Tournament in play over the weekend at Kelley Park.

Both Salona Supply and Deming's dropped their opening two contests in the double elimination tournament. Salona, a late minute substitute for defending champion Canton Willow Springs who dropped out of the tournament, was eliminated in a double header Saturday night.

Ready to Roll
Far West FiveUSC Gets Nod As Slight Favorite

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Far West Five — football's newest big college conference — contains three contenders and two potential trouble makers.

Southern California, California, UCLA and Washington joined after the demise of the Pacific Coast conference and Stanford later came into the Athletic Assn. of Western Universities, legal name of the group.

Coach Don Clark, of course, would argue negatively, but his USC Trojans rate a slight edge over California and UCLA, thanks to a powerhouse line.

Pete Elliott at California, last of the PCC winners, is too deep in lettermen at every line spot. His only real loss, and it is a big one, was Joe Kapp at Quarterback.

Stanford relies mainly on the pitching of quarterback Dick Norman and the catching of Chris Burford, an all conference end last year.

Washington fields practically an all-junior starting lineup. Bob Hivner, outranked in PCC total offense statistics last year only by Kapp, is back at quarterback. USC's all-lettermen line smacks of speed and beef with twins Mike and Marlin McKeever, 215 and 235, tackle Dan Ficca, 235, and George Van Vliet, 195-pound end, providing the muscle.

Willie Wood, hampered by a shoulder injury last year in the Trojan's 4-5-1 season, will be back at quarterback.

Elliott has depth, if nothing else going for him, four lettermen centers returning along with four fullbacks to name two positions.

Wayne Crow, a standout sophomore last season, moves from halfback to quarterback in the Bears multiple-T offense. The UCLA line is of moderate size, but improved in speed, depth and strength. Key veterans up front are center Harry Baldwin, guards Rod Cochran and Jack Metcalf, tackles Tony Longo and Jim Wallace and ends Marv Luster and Trusse Norris.

Coach Jack Curcio at Stanford has a real re-building job in his second season. He lost his entire line from tackle to tackle.

Washington has additional left up and down the line, along with Don Millich, a halfback who sat out last season. But the Huskies need more over-all offensive punch.

Deming's picked up its second loss Sunday in the only game completed before the rains came. The remaining four-game schedule was rained out and will be rescheduled.

In Saturday's games, Cleveland Sheffield Bronze, featuring former Salem athlete, Kirby Laughlin, shut out Salona Supply 13-0. Cleveland then came back to whitewash the New Brighton Eagles 8-0. It was New Brighton's first loss in two starts.

Stuebenville Lido Restaurant eliminated Salona in the third and final game Saturday by a 12-2 count. Stuebenville has already lost one game to New Brighton earlier in the week.

East Liverpool AVP knocked Deming's out of further competition Sunday with a 3-run outburst in the fifth inning. Centerfielder Wilbur Staley's 2-run homer over the scoreboard highlighted the uprising. John Eckstein also had a home run for East Liverpool in the third inning.

Deming's had taken a 3-2 lead in the top of the fifth with a pair of runs sent across on doubles by Wayne Hahn and Nello Arsuffi.

Each team collected six hits. Gerry Bryson was the winning pitcher while Bill Ehrhart took the loss.

Tournament action will continue tonight with three games on tap for Kelley Park. Either Youngstown Shangri-La or Canfield A&S Gulf will be eliminated in the 7 p.m. opener. Each has already suffered one loss. Youngstown is a heavy favorite since its only loss was a 2-1 decision to powerful Akron Reds Bar.

At 8 p.m. tonight Youngstown Horvath All-Stars and SAIDC, Salem's Class AA regular season's champion, will make their tournament debuts.

In the 9 p.m. finale, Akron Reds Bar, possibly the tournament's top club, will tangle with Salem Shaffer's Ford. Both of these outfits stand with one victory and no losses in the tourney.

Beloit Wins
4-0 Over
Stepanic's

The Beloit Merchants are just one victory away from the Class AA softball playoff title after a 4-0 win over Stepanics Tavern of Kensington Saturday at Kelley Park.

The victory came in the first game of a best-of-three series and boosts Beloit into the enviable position of being able to wrap up the title in the second game, scheduled for 10 p.m. Thursday. If Stepanics wins Thursday, a third game would have to be scheduled.

Jim Clayton was the whole show for Beloit Saturday as he limited Stepanics to just two hits in registering the shutout. Glenn Mercer was charged with the loss.

Beloit earned it way into the playoff by virtue of a two-game sweep over Shaffer Ford, fourth place finishers during the regular season. Third place Stepanics moved into the finals by surprising regular season champion SAIDC in two straight games.

Wynn Hawkins Wins

13th for Mobile

Wynn Hawkins picked up his 13th victory of the season for Mobile of the Southern Association last weekend with a 3-2 win over Atlanta.

The hurling star from New Waterford lowered his earned run average to 2.66 for 38 games and raised his strikeout total to 144. The Cleveland Indians prospect has lost eight games this season.

Natural Gas Workers To Vote on Contract

CLEVELAND (AP) — Members of the Natural Gas Workers Union in nine Ohio cities will vote tonight on a tentative agreement on a new one-year contract with the East Ohio Gas Co.

A strike set for 8 a. m. today was postponed 24 hours for the ratification meetings after the agreement was reached Saturday at a meeting of company and union representatives with a federal conciliator.

The 2,500 union members will vote at plants in Cleveland, Akron, Canton, North Canton, Youngstown, Ashtabula, Warren, Wooster and Cadiz.

The agreement was accepted by the unions negotiating and executive committees. It provides for wage increases ranging from $10 to $26 a month, plus fringe benefits. "ANATOMY OF A MURDER" JAMES STEWART

SALEM FIRST CITED — New corporation limit markers, installed Tuesday, proclaim to passing motorists that Salem was the site of the first women's rights convention, held in 1850. The four markers, also denoting the founding date of the city, were erected by Division 11 of the State Highway Dept. The metal poles supporting the state-shaped sign are sunk in 18 inches of concrete. Installed on main routes running to Alliance, Youngstown, Columbiana and Lisbon from Salem, the historical markers were furnished by the Ohio Historical Society in Columbus. They are cast aluminum. The program of designating important events by installation of signs started in this division of the highway department in April. Markers have been placed in several towns and villages, including Columbiana and Lisbon, Division Engineer William McKenna said.

Two Men Are Fined After Scare Drowning

LISBON — A swimmer who disappeared at 3:30 a. m. Saturday in Beaver Creek near Fredericktown was fined $25 and costs the same day by Judge Earl Spaulding in eastern district court at East Palestine for trespassing an disorderly conduct.

Curtis Hague, 34, Negley, who reported the "drowning," was fined $10 and costs. He told authorities his buddy, George Crawford, 23, of Wellsview, disappeared and never came up.

Sheriff's deputies, constables and East Liverpool firemen rushed to the scene. Deputy Sheriff Herman Wellman found Crawford asleep on a rock.

STICKPIN TAKEN

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hundreds of visitors viewed the body of Jasper Wottring, 71, prominent restaurateur, between his death and funeral last week—and one of them may have departed with a $3,500 diamond stickpin from his necktie.

Police said Sunday they had no clues or suspects in the casket-raiding. The gold pin with diamond setting was missed shortly before the services.

Ohio State Fair Attendance Running Ahead of Last Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The unofficial paid attendance at this year's Ohio State Fair is running above that of last year, but is down considerably from the record attendance of 1956.

However, one factor must be taken into consideration. The fair this year inaugurated a new policy of allowing onto the grounds free all persons who bought reserved seats to an evening grandstand show. They must be at the gate within 30 minutes of showtime.

This policy has undoubtedly cut down some paid attendance. For the first three days of the eight-day exposition, unofficial paid attendance has been 129,135. Last year for that period it was 118,887, while in record-breaking 1956 it stood at 182,655.

Paid attendance, however, is not at all indicative of the number of fairgoers. Children under 12, accompanied by parents, are allowed in free. As a result, total attendance for the three days is estimated by the fair's public relations people at around 307,000. That's about 60,000 less than in 1956.

A rainstorm here Sunday apparently didn't put too much of a damper on attendance. But the 100,000-or-so fairgoers scrambled for shelter under tents and in the buildings to avoid the downpour. In the grandstand, the Roy Rogers cowboy show played to a full house again, with the first three days' ticket sales netting more than $50,000. Of this, Rogers gets $25,000 and the fair the rest.

The figures include only sales through Sunday's matinee performance. Sunday night's revenue, plus that of the two Rogers shows today, will be divided 70-30, with the cowboy from Duck Run, Ohio, getting the lion's share.

Livestock events on tap today include the Ohio Ayrshire Dairy Cattle Futurity, the All-American Brown Swiss Futurity and the Commercial Cattle Auction. Today is designated Crippled Children's Day at the fair, and some 1,000 such children will be guests of the management. They will be entertained by Rogers at a special show in the morning.

After Rogers winds up his fair appearances tonight, the grandstand show will feature a fireworks spectacular depicting Bible stories. That will run from Tuesday through Friday.

Livestock judging late Saturday included the Fat Lambs Show in which Adam J. Leighty and son of Upper Sandusky exhibited the grand champion wether, the grand and reserve champion pens of three and the champion pen of ten. The Leighty entries brought top prices at the auction block.

The average price paid for all 550 head entered in the show was for $24.98 a hundredweight, with the average weight per animal at 87 pounds.

Queen-of-show honors in the annual rose competition went to Harold H. Allen of Chillicothe who displayed a Peace rose.

Donivee Hunter, 17, of Rt. 1, Lancaster, was chosen by the Ohio Future Farmers of America to rule as FFA Fair Queen. She competed against 141 other girls. Her court consists of Marianne Root, 13, of Fremont; Connie Hyde, 16, of Sullivan (Ashland County), and Jeanie Bryan, 17, of Celina.

Jack Tarbill of Rt. 1, New Holland (Pickaway and Fayette counties), won the 4-H Club tractor operators contest against 45 competitors. R. 2, Albany (Athens County), and third was Allen Collett, Rt. 5, Wilmington.

The Future Homemakers of America awarded one of three trophies to its Ross Chapter in Butler County for an outstanding exhibit.

Jon Jewell, 19, of Centerburg (Knox County) took top honors in the Juniro Fair Wool Show.

HOSPITAL DEDICATED — PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Lake County's first osteopathic institution—the Northeastern Ohio General Hospital — was dedicated Sunday at North Madison. It was built at a cost of $570,000 and will serve Lake, Geauga and Ashtabula counties. The first patients will be admitted this fall.
